Full-stack web developer with over 7 years of professional work experience in retail. Worked full-time through school and was promoted into a leadership position responsible for leading a high performance team of over 50 employees at Costco Wholesale while being the youngest leader at the store. Hand picked to lead many complex projects and solve operational issues using a data-driven approach to every unique scenario.

My goal is to bridge my prior experience in business with my strengths in web development to create dynamic applications to solve real world problems. The majority of business problems can be solved through data and automation and I want to be at the forefront of leading teams to accomplish this.

Skills

Proficient in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and Bash programming languages. Experienced in project management and working in teams. Proficient in Windows, Mac, and Linux (Arch, Debian, Ubuntu) operating systems. Designer with strengths in CSS media queries, typography, and responsive design. Logical thinker with strengths in designing database schema and RESTful APIs.
